

Little Mill Creek

The Little Mill Creek location is situated at the intersection of Sulger and Kirkman roads near the confluence of Little Mill Creek and Mill Creek. Located just off the roadway, to the northeast of the intersection, is a large group of flat boulders with many exhibiting signs of being cut probably during construction of the railroad.

Stahlman notes in his journal that this small cluster the twelve MEMORIALS form part of the GILGAL GROUP and that during September 1912, he cut names on three of these rocks, and also some scripture on one of them relating to the eating of old corn. He relates that on the next day, a man voluntarily gave him twelve ears of sweet corn. The date September 5, 1912 is found on Panel 2 of Levi's Rock. This is the earliest date found on any of Stahlman's Rocks. Stahlman's homestead was in Kirkman and he apparently used the Little Mill Creek Road road frequently to visit family and relatives. Further along this roadway on the property of Jack Theison along the east side of the road lie SHAKING and BREAKING rocks. Other rocks might still exist yet undiscovered along Little Mill Creek Road or possibly have been lost during construction of Interstate 80, which now bisects this road.

Little Mill Creek

---

Rock 108 (Dedicated)

Panel 1

JOSH. 4:1-9

MEMORIALS

GPS N 41 09 796
GPS W 79 01 992

Rock 109 (Dedicated)

Panel 1

LEVI'S

GPS N 41 09 795
GPS W 79 01 994

Panel 2

THIS DAY HAVE I ROLLED THE
REPROACH OF EGYPT FROM
OFF YOU. SEPT. 5, 1912

Panel 3

AND THEY DID EAT OF THE OLD CORN OF THE LAND
AND ON THE MORROW.
JOSH. 5:9-11

Rock 111 (Dedicated)

Panel 1

GILGAL

GPS N 41 09 782
GPS W 79 02 006

Rock 112 (Dedicated)

Panel 1

SHAKING

GPS N 41 10 070
GPS W 79 01 876

Rock 113 (Dedicated)

Panel 1

BREAKING

GPS N 41 10 070
GPS W 79 01 876

