

SANDY LICK CREEK

The Sandy Like Creek locations are all located alongside the Shawmut (formally Penn Central) rail-road east of Port Barnett and include the Rising Cloud group at the 44 mile marker, Victory at the 44.5, and Realization at 45 mile marker.

(Note: VICTORY is in 30 inch letters. The 5 in the 500 appears to overlay a number that has been defaced/erased probably by Stahlman and might have once said 300).

(A large portion of Victory was buried when the second track siding was installed expanding the railroad grade width by approximately 70 feet in this area. Several large rocks near Victory might have also been displaced or buried)
